

Town of Pictou Announces 2013 Volunteer of the Year

Pictou, NS – Each year a call is put out to our community for nominations for residents who have contributed through volunteering their time in making our Town a better place to live. Doris Young has exemplified Pictou volunteering from her youth to present. She shares her love of Pictou by being a goodwill ambassador wherever she goes. From youth to seniors she has given her time, talents, and unending interest with successful results.

Doris has been actively involved in numerous groups over the years, so many to mention, here are a few highlights: member of the Bible Society, Historical Photograph Society, Home and School, RCMP Committee, Meals on Wheels, Children's Aid Society, hospital auxiliary, endless fundraisers in support of various charities and causes dear to her heart, and instrumental in organizing Pictou's first Blessing of the Fleet. Doris is also an active volunteer in her church community. She is a life member of the United Church Women for over 50 years, council member, member of session, choir member and past CGIT leader. Doris Young can always be depended upon to assist wherever she can and willingly gives of herself to community and church. The Town of Pictou is very proud to have Doris as our 2013 Volunteer of the Year.
